DECADES OF COMMUNITY FUN!

The daily newspaper for and about Perquimans County people

The streets of Hertford took on the air of a county fair Saturday with Indian Summer Festival 1987. Booths featuring crafts, food and information lined Church and Market streets. On the northeast lawn and at the waterfront park behind the Hertford town offices, entertainers sang and danced for appreciative audiences. The festival is organized and promoted by the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce.

Festival is successful

The 18th annual Indian Summer Festival was a success, drawing thousands of people to the waterfront pavilion and the downtown streets of Hertford. The festival featured a variety of activities, including a parade, a dance performance, and a concert. The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce organized the event, which was held on Saturday, September 12, 1987.

Martin leaves school

Martin, who has been in the school for several years, is leaving the school to attend college. He is a member of the school's sports teams and has been a successful student. He is looking forward to his new life in college.

Festival 1997 is successful

The 19th annual Indian Summer Festival was a success, drawing thousands of people to the waterfront pavilion and the downtown streets of Hertford. The festival featured a variety of activities, including a parade, a dance performance, and a concert. The Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce organized the event, which was held on Saturday, September 12, 1997.

Festival Day '99 a success

Susan R. Harris
Editor
Saturday's weather fit the name of one of the day's festivities well - Indian Summer. The 19th annual Indian Summer Festival and 10th annual North & Harriet Festival drew steady crowds throughout the day in both downtown Hertford and the Newbold White House. The day began on a bitter-sweet note as the Perquimans County High School Marching Pirates presented their 2000 show, which is titled "Play House," to open the Indian Summer Festival. With the flag on the courthouse lawn, the flag at half mast in the background and an arrangement of flowers on top of the courthouse lawn, the marchers to Hertford on the courthouse lawn, the band played. Chris Whitehouse requested a moment of silence in honor of the victims of the recent shooting in the school. The concert with "Amazing Grace" was a hit. It was a great day but it's

The younger set at Indian Summer Festival Saturday enjoyed the booth that offered hair painting. Linda Macken created another colorful do.
